

"Loosen Up and Let's Get Busy."

Why wait on the other fellow? It's up to you to do your part. Going to "wait til times get better?" Now is time to make the start. Why should you sit 'round and grumble? Why should you not take the lead? Men are hoping, waiting, willing now to work for what they need. Our own land is filled with good things—never was the like before—and the planting time is on us, soon there'll be abundance, more than we ever can be able to consume, and still have left greatest plenty for the hungry, of these needful things best. "Times" are only what we make them—yes, indifferent, good or bad—and there's no excuse for sulking, sitting 'round and looking sad. What's the cause of this slow moving? You say "It's lack of confidence." That may be the name, you give it, but it's lack of common sense. Don't charge it to the other fellow. You say he's to blame, but is he? Try some "high life" on your backbone—

"LOOSEN UP AND

LET'S GET BUSY."

Loosen up, don't be a "tightwad" he's much more to blame than the spendthrift, bad as he is; yes, the "tightwad" blocks the game. If you're going to build next summer, why not start the work today; what is the use to wait till August; you could have your house by May.

Don't you know if you get busy soon your neighbor'll do the same? He can't mope while you're working; he would feel the sting of shame, and at once would roll his sleeves up, shuck his coat, and go to work. Let's get busy—it's duty, not a thing that we may shirk. You well know if you are happy others will be helped along if you start a little duty others will join in your song. It's the same with work and business—you hold back and they will, too, but if you will just start something others soon will follow you. This is no poetic fancy, not a dream of some wild "bug" with a fanciful delusion which to himself he like-hug, but a recipe for "good times" that will cure and never fail; it will keep you in the vanguard—never in the rear to trail. It will set things going steady at a pace that makes you dizzy; rouse yourself, also your neighbor—

LET'S GET BUSY."

A MAN AND HIS WORK.

Without Interest in the Task Efficiency Is Never Attained.

A man's luck is as hard as adamant if he is not in love with the work he does, as with a mold he waxes. It is a miserable thing to cure for one's occupation merely because it shuts out the thoughts that burn like fires if you think. Any trade or profession you could name is a poor affair if it is but a time killer, a stop gap, an upate, the ballast of the drudgery life. You hear a man start his work with a faint tap at a clock stroke, and you hear him drop it with a loud thud at another clock stroke, and you know his soul and his heart are not alive in the thing that he is doing. Why? A thousand men are a thousand reasons why.

Any man who can be accurately stigmatized as efficient (dreadful word!) brings all of himself to the task in hand. He brings not merely his sixth sense and his fourth dimension to bear on his concerning handful, but every bit of vital electricity in the storage batteries of his whole being. When he has done his level best he is, as we ironically say, "played out," and he is supposed to take a rest, which may assume the form of harder labor than ever in a wholly different field of endeavor.

In fact, the man who has formed the habit of work is never happy to be idle. It is no use to extend to him the prospect of complete bliss in the name of a vacation. The program of the null and void would assure him an acute uneasiness. There is a saying that nature abhors a vacuum. So does a real live man, the son of nature.—Philadelphia Ledger.
